Short Bio

Using his vibrant guitar and powerful vocals, Matt has recorded his first solo EP titled "No One's Home".

With songs pulling from his old blues influences, to songs inspired by new Rock influences, Matt has managed to recreate Blues Rock like no other musician has done before.

Since the early age of 10, Matt was ahead of most of the musicians that surrounded him. In high school he continued his study of guitar and playing in small bands with his friends, but also competed with a Nationally recognized marching band as a trumpet player which influenced his interest of studying music in college. Where he would then start his study of Jazz in Tyler, Texas.

After a few semesters of dealing with the demanding college life, he sat out to create something new...
